This year, our theme celebrates the beautiful setting of Clonmel, nestled in the valley of Slievenamon with hilly views on all sides of Comeraghs, Galtees, Knockmealdowns. We'll have events to get you out into the hills and to get you looking up as we give a platform to the artistic talent that abounds in Clonmel.

The hills on our doorstep are green too...

Welcome

Theatre

Remember to Breathe

📍 White Memorial Theatre 📅 Tuesday 2nd - Wednesday 3rd ⌚ 8pm ⌚ 55mins 💰 €12

Remember to Breathe is Orla Murphy's full-length theatrical debut. Shortlisted for the BBC International Playwriting Award and The Fishamble Best New Play Award in Tiger Dublin Fringe, the play won the Lustrum Award, Edinburgh Fringe. The show is a celebration of the beauty of the Irish countryside that never leaves you once you've experienced it, shot through with the dry Tipp wit that Orla grew up listening to. Humorous, moving and truly uplifting piece with Raymond Keane, Juliette Crosbie and Festival favourite Julie Sharkey.

The cast will hold a post-show discussion with the audience after the show on Tuesday.

Brendan Galileo For Europe

📍 White Memorial Theatre 📅 Sunday 7th ⌚ 7pm
⌚ 60mins 💰 €15

Fionn Foley's award-winning new show that was developed as part of ITI and Fishamble's Show in A Bag programme which enjoyed a sell-out run in Bewley's in September as part of the Dublin Fringe Festival. The show is a comedic solo performance centring around one man's quest to save his rural town from the perils of globalisation through a frenzied journey to the Eurovision Song Contest.

Strolling Through Ulysses

📍 Hickey's Bakery 📅 Monday 1st - Wednesday 3rd
⌚ 7pm ⌚ 90mins 💰 €15

A comic jaunt through James Joyce's famous novel, written and performed by Robert Gogan. This one-man show unlocks Joyce's masterpiece, bringing the characters to life and unravelling the mysteries as the audience travel on this 75-minute romp through Ulysses, with all the fun and laughter which is the backbone of this extraordinary and iconic novel.

The Fight (Stagecraft Youth Theatre)

📍 Barracks Gym 📅 Monday 1st - Thursday 4th
🕒 8pm 🕒 75mins 💰 €15

A play devised by, about and for teenagers. An exciting, committed, high energy production that looks at the behaviour and preoccupations of a group of teenagers.

Directed by Jack Reardon

Arts Council of Ireland Young Ensembles award

The cast will hold a post-show discussion with audience after the show on Wednesday.

Cabaret Venue

In the former ballroom of the Slievenamon Hotel, Clonmel Junction Arts Festival will create the an intimate cabaret space with set designer Diarmuid Vaughan - the Cider Rooms Cabaret

Theatre

Don Juan (A Slightly Isolated Dog - New Zealand)

 Friday 5th - Saturday 6th  8pm  100mins

 €20

Directed by the award-winning Leo Gene Peters and an audacious cast of New Zealand performers, Don Juan brings together brilliant physical comedy, twisted pop songs and explosive wit to create a hilarious and irreverent show.

'An anarchic explosion of fun, full of wit and passion'

Edinburgh Fringe Guru

TWO (Down the Rabbit Hole - Clonmel)

 Monday 1st - Tuesday 2nd  6pm  80mins

 €10

Thirteen characters, six couples, two actors, one pub. Two by Jim Cartwright shines a light on the stories that one pub can hold over the course of one evening. A Clonmel-based theatre company, founded by Amy Hill, who has worked as a professional actress for many years, most notably in RTE's The Clinic and Michael Lavelle's critically acclaimed film Out of the Blue.

Music

On Song - Catharsis & Incarnation

 Tuesday 2nd  9pm  60mins  €10

Rebekah Keogh (songwriter and vocalist of Kildare Alt-Rock band, She Speaks and Clonmel's Vocal Studio founder) performs a cabaret style show of new and older original songs adapted exclusively for Clonmel Junction Arts Festival, with the collaborative aid of Indie- electro artist George Mercer of My Tribe Your Tribe.

Niwel Tsumbu / Electric Orfeo

 Thursday 4th  9pm  120mins  €15

Niwel Tsumbu's virtuoso jazz guitar abilities and Éamonn Cagney's blistering solo djembe draw both on Congolese roots and modern influences. They perform in a double-header with local jazz ensemble Electric Orfeo. Combining Sam Barkers's post-bop, funk jazz guitar excursions with Stephen McGrath's fretboard-traversing, effects-driven bass-playing & Gev Barrett's laidback multilingual grooves.

Festival Finale

 Sunday 7th  9pm  120mins  €10

Providing a platform for some of Clonmel's most exciting emerging and seasoned songwriters, Ruaraí de Leastar curates a Clonmel showcase concert featuring original music by Alan Acheson, Kate Twohig, Ruaraí de Leastar + Band and more.

The Songs and Tall Tales of Jerry Fish

 Wednesday 3rd  9pm  90mins  €20

An intimate piano show sees Jerry take his stranger-than-fiction life story to audiences, performing his favourite songs, old, new, borrowed and blue, from a career spanning over two decades. This highly charismatic performer who refuses to countenance audiences having anything but a good time returns to Clonmel Junction Festival to accentuate the positive!

 Cider Rooms Cabaret can be accessed through The Coachman, Parnell St.

Mick Flannery

📍 O'Keeffes Bar 📅 6th 🕒 8.30pm

🕒 120mins € €18

Mick Flannery is widely regarded as one of the finest singer-songwriters to come out of Ireland in recent years. 2018 saw Mick Flannery step out of his comfort zone both musically and geographically, touring new cities across UK, Europe, North America, Australia and New Zealand whilst working with a number of celebrated producers along the way. What has transpired over the last year is one of his strongest bodies of work in his fifteen-year songwriting career. His new album will be released in Ireland on 5th July 2019, the day before his Junction Festival appearance .

COMEDY

Fred Cooke

📍 Bakers Comedy Club 📅 4th

🕒 8.30pm 🕒 90mins € €15

Fred Cooke is leaving his twinkle toes behind him from Dancing with the Stars and taking to the road for his new comical tour of musical madness Fred Space. Voted Irish Comedian of the Year 2018 by Tatler Magazine, he has supported Irish comedy legend Tommy Tiernan on his nationwide tour. Cooke's guitar plucking panache enables him to paint comical situations before delivering unexpected killer-punch lines that leave his audience 'elevated to hilarity'.

Everybody Out

We want you dancing in the streets, wandering down the lanes and finding art where you don't expect it. Our 'Everybody Out!' programme, supported by Creative Ireland, will give you the chance to do fun things in the sun.

Everybody Dance Now

 Main Guard Arches  Monday 1st – Sunday 7th

 12 noon

Everybody Dance Now will harness the talents of the many choreographers and dance schools in Clonmel, encouraging participants to experience a different dance form each day. Under the arches of the Main Guard every lunchtime of the festival, a different school or choreographer will be invited to give a short presentation and then lead the public in a workshop. From hip-hop to ballet, from tango to contemporary dance, the public can participate as spectators or as dancers, according to their confidence level.

Down the Lane

 Laneways of Clonmel  1st - 7th July

Claire Egan Hennessey
Creative Ireland
Programme
2017 - 2023

Down The Lane is a project that places the work of artists and arts practitioners in the heart of Clonmel's downtown. The laneway in a modern town has a negative connotation (dark, dirty, perhaps dangerous). We invite our artists to shine a light into these spaces in order to reclaim them for the public and to use them as a public gallery for art. Sound installations, projections, murals, sculptural pieces, we will work with the artists to turn the town centre into an art gallery for the week of the Festival.

Visual Art

Sliabh na mBan - Mollie Anna King

📍 South Tipperary Arts Centre 📅 2nd 🕒 Opens Tuesday 2nd 🕒 10-5pm daily

Kilcash artist Mollie Anna King works with the physical and historical elements of Sliabh na mBan and the surrounding rural area, drawing from folklore and the Cairn located at its peak. A constructed architectural form is created in the gallery of the Arts Centre which combines the well-worn paths of the mountain with that of a daily routine to become an inlaid domestic floorplan. The structure takes its measurements from domestic, display, rural and recreational spaces - areas of continuous use that feature as part of this ritual. This space uses local materials (clay, stone, heather and gorse from the mountain) to construct and ground the artwork.

Robert Ballagh

 Showgrounds Shopping Centre

With Tipperary County Museum

 From 1st July

In the early 1970s, artist Robert Ballagh received his first major commission with a series of eighteen panels for the Five Star Shopping Centre in Clonmel. These pieces by a pioneering Irish artist, that observe and chronicle Irish people of the period as they stand and observe in a heightened realistic setting, had a profound effect on a generation of Clonmel people, informing their visual references as well as the sense of place they felt towards their environment. The availability of the work in the mall of a shopping centre made it a startlingly democratic and accessible piece of public art.
